

“Sharing our knowledge and experience as a corporate responsibility”

Awassa, Ethiopia

Wissing is a leading urban design and planning consultancy office in Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

For over 60 years we offer contemporary and innovative projects. Our portfolio consists of mixed use urban areas, city centers, new towns, as well as landscape and regional design, regeneration of former industrial areas, leisure-, retail- and business parks.

For each case we are able to create a specific solution in which planning, energy, water and social aspects are integrated. In this way we reach the base for a sustainable growth or reconstruction on different scale and context.

We delivered projects in the Netherlands as well as other countries like South Africa, Ethiopia, Irak, Germany and India. Our clients includes both governments and authorities as property developers.

Wissing Principles

- 1 Regional planning
- 2 Mixed use areas
- 3 Reconstruction
- 4 Affordable housing
- 5 Energy and sustainability
- 6 Public space
- 7 Infrastructure
- 8 Tourism and Leisure
- 9 Neighbourhood
- 10 Corporate social responsibility

We consider sharing our knowledge and experience as a corporate responsibility.

Wissing delivers many international projects. This is not a goal by itself, but shaped by our belief that we can contribute to better societies and living conditions. We gladly share our experience with regard to the planning of a well ordered society. This is the corporate responsibility we propagate in The Netherlands as well as abroad. For instance lectures, workshops, schooling or trainee programs are being organized.

Solid ambitions and planning projects are originate through cooperation. It needs understanding, for your clients and partners in the process, for the people who the projects concerns. This is why we seek local experts that can help to improve the process. Symbiosis only exists by true cooperation. This benefits the project, creates better living conditions, housing circumstances of job opportunities and the development of the people in question.

In cooperation with Intervolve (NGO), Wissing made an urban redevelopment plan for a neighbourhood in Awassa, Ethiopia. The living circumstances in the neighbourhood were lifted to a higher level through an creative approach in which employment, education, healthcare and housing were taken into account. Inhabitants participated on a voluntary basis.
